

I oppose changing Wisconsin's current NO CALL laws which you are considering changing. Its well known that consumers hate telemarketing calls and if you support the Consumer Banking Association's positions and other commercial endeavors to change Wisconsin laws you are bending to the will of commercial interests against the good of consumers. Telemarketing calls are not necessary because I can call at my own will any company I seek information from at any time.